same as it was for employees taking part in last October's anti-Vietnam War march on the Pentagon and for signing a petition against the war. They must do so on their own time and they cannot take part in any direct criticism of their agency, especially if they are in policy-making positions.

In the broad sense, many of the employees joining the effort are aligning themselves against policies and programs of their agencies merely by taking part.

One HEW employee who asked not to be identified said he had helped members of the campaign draft one of the series of demand papers that were presented to his department.

Asked whether this amounts to disloyalty to the agency, Michael Tabor, a community affairs assistant at HEW, replied: "Not at all. I think we have a duty to support constructive change."

Letters to the Editor

PRAISES STUDENTS

Editor the Star: Some months ago I indulged in the responsibility - albeit a pleasant one - of writing to you a word of appreciation for Hope's young people. The response to this letter was very gratifying, and I hope we continue our applause and encouragement.

During the past year I have worked almost exclusively with and for persons under 18 in all the local schools. Consequently, a private philosophy long cherished has been considerably strengthened through rich experience. The philosophy: that quality counts no particular country, race, or creed. So it is that I find, in all fairness, I must add to that first letter a word in behalf of Hope's Negro youth.

We in this community are favored with generally fine colored youngsters. The boys and girls young men and women encountered in the public school system possess their measure of faults - like all of us - but they also combine certain virtues which cannot be denied. Not the least among these are courtesy, thoughtfulness, and a desire to become useful citizens. Many Negro graduates of Hope schools have achieved success in their chosen careers, and I venture to predict that the 89 Yerger High School seniors and the six Negroes being graduated from Hope High School will also make significant contributions.

The future is always nebulous, and fraught with a degree of peril. We know not what tomorrow brings, but I for one take heart from the children and youth of today. We are at a juncture which requires the very best that everyone has to offer. I devoutly believe in quality - quality in all kinds of people - and on quality I pin my faith for tomorrow. So in my quiet way, waving no banners and singing no songs, I extend congratulations and best wishes to the aforementioned graduating Negro seniors as well as to all other Hope seniors. (After all, merely graduating means something in these times!) We send you forth into a world which owes no man a living, yet rewards true quality with surprising frequency. Sincerely,

DAVID PEARSON

It has been obvious for some time that the whole question of the intent and effect of existing laws regarding on premises consumption of alcoholic beverages can only be resolved in the courts. This could take considerable time and, in the interim, confusion would continue to exist.

"I will propose... a strong, enforceable law regulating the sale of mixed drinks, and a heavy tax on such sales."

"There are those who would characterize this as a moral issue. Certainly it is, but, let us remember, law enforcement is an essential part of that moral issue."

"Anyone who is not familiar with the chaos and confusion of our present laws unwittingly undercuts his own principles when he opposes changing them on moral grounds."

Rockefeller said there must be an end to hypocrisy as far as liquor laws are involved.

Sale of Guns by Mail Ban Is Rejected

By JOHN CHADWICK
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) - The Senate has rejected proposals to ban interstate mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns and sales to private citizens of antitank guns, bazookas, mortars and machine guns.

The vote Thursday was 53 to 29 against prohibiting mail-order sales of rifles and shotguns. The measure was sponsored by Sen. Edward M. Kennedy, D-Mass., whose brother, President John F. Kennedy, was assassinated with a mail-order rifle.

The votes of Western and Southern senators of both parties doomed Kennedy's proposal.

A White House spokesman said President Johnson considered defeat of the Kennedy measure "a blow to effective law enforcement."

The Senate voted to prohibit mail-order sales of handguns.

Voting is expected to begin next Tuesday on other parts of a broad crime-control bill, including a controversial provision to overturn Supreme Court restrictions on admissibility of confessions and eyewitness identifications in criminal trials.

Other disputes center on sections authorizing court-supervised police wiretapping and eyewitness identifications in criminal trials.

Other disputes center on sections authorizing court-supervised police wiretapping and federal grants to improve local law enforcement.

Sen. Thomas J. Dodd, D-Conn., tried to save Kennedy's proposal with an amendment to allow states to exempt their citizens from the proposed ban on mail-order gun sales. That was rejected 54 to 29.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., questioned the constitutionality of Dodd's amendment, saying states already are free to mail-order gun sales. That was rejected 54 to 29.

Sen. Howard W. Cannon, D-Nev., questioned the constitutionality of Dodd's amendment, saying states already are free to act on gun-control laws.

Sen. Roman L. Hruska, R-Neb., led the fight against the long-gun amendments, contending they would make it difficult or impossible for sportsmen and hunters to buy weapons.

But Hruska went down to defeat, 45 to 37, when he tried to eliminate the bill's ban on interstate mail-order sales of handguns and their over-the-counter sales to nonresidents of a state.

feet today, was 15 feet above the flood stage of 25 late Thursday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Shreveport, La., issued a flash flood advisory this morning for the De Queen area. The bureau said that major flash flooding was indicated in the vicinity of DeQueen along the Rolling Fork, Cossatot and Saline rivers.

The bureau said U.S. 70 would probably be closed in several spots.

Firemen evacuated a low-lying section of DeQueen twice Thursday night and then evacuated the same area again this morning. About 80 persons were evacuated from the area Monday.

More than 4.5 inches of rain fell at DeQueen during a 24-hour period that ended this morning.

The U.S. Weather Bureau at Little Rock said from two to four inches of rain fell during the night from Warren, Camden and Gurdon westward up to Lake Greeson and DeQueen and the Oklahoma border.

The bureau said slow falls can be expected on the Quachita River from Arkadelphia northward. The Caddo River, aided by overnight rains, is expected to return to bankful conditions today.

The Little Missouri River will remain bankful from Narrows Dam downstream to above Camden. The Arkansas River will crest at 40.5 feet today at Pine Bluff with a slow fall from Little Rock upstream to Van Buren.

A flat crest is slowly moving downstream along the White River south of Newport. Clarendon will crest near 30 feet Sunday or Monday.

The Black River will crest around 25 feet tonight at Black Rock and hold through Saturday. The river is at crest today at Pochontas and will fall slowly over the weekend.

High rainfall probabilities are in the forecast for Arkansas today and tonight. Heavy rains are likely in the rain-soaked south portion of the state.

Overnight low temperatures ranged from 58 at Fayetteville to 87 at Texarkana.

$1.8 Million Chopped Off Prison Budget

By ED SHEARER
Associated Press Writer

LITTLE ROCK (AP) - The Arkansas Legislative Council lopped more than a quarter million dollars off the state penitentiary's $1.8 million budget request Thursday after the chairman of the state Board of Correction refused to trim it.

Declaring that the request would provide "the bare level of humanitarian treatment" of prisoners, John Haley told the council that it was time to quit paying "lip service to penal reform to ride out public sentiment after a prison scandal."

"The budget we have submitted is a bare-bone budget," Haley said. "It will provide the bare level of humanitarian treatment."

However, the council did chop off a $226,891 request for the Pardon and Parole Board and a $50,000 request for architect's fees and site planning for a reception and maximum security unit.

After the lengthy afternoon debate on the prison package, the council concluded its meetings without making a recommendation on the prison program.

Several motions to trim the request by almost half and another to send it out "without recommendation" failed to pass when only 16 members, the number of votes needed for approval, remained at the session.

Three revenue measures to fund the prison budget had been sent out earlier "without recommendation." They included a 14 per cent excise tax on tobacco products, a real estate transfer tax and a unclaimed property bill.

The special session is scheduled to begin Monday and Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller said Thursday night he would mail the call to the legislators sometime today. He declined to say whether a mixed drink bill would be included in the call.

Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell may have killed a fourth measure to provide funds for the prison - a proposal to apply the state sales tax to purchases by banks and federally chartered savings and loan associations. Purcell gave the council an opinion in which he declined to sanction such action, primarily because the matter is under litigation.

Much of the discussion about the prison package centered on the tax measures which several lawmakers contended would not pass.

And, at Hot Springs, Rep. Ode Maddox of Oden said he did not believe Rockefeller could push a tax increase through the legislature even "with the help of the state militia."

Rep. B. D. "Doug" Brandon of Little Rock charged that neither Rockefeller nor the council was exerting the leadership needed to pass a tax measure to provide the prison with enough money to meet the budget request.

"Maybe there are some tax measures that need to be passed to provide these services to the prisons, the schools, the colleges and the welfare recipients," Brandon said. "I think it's wrong for us to sit up here and do this."

The council gave "do pass" recommendations to four of the governor's proposals to patch up the financial problems of general revenue agencies and approved a fifth in principle. They dealt with the transfer and redistribution of funds in the general improvement, general budget revolving, general budget and governor's contingency funds.

Bob Thomas at the Movies

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — The awards season comes to an end on Sunday night when a wagon-load of Emmies will be handed out in 90 minutes.

Television viewers have been exposed to the Oscars, the Tonies, the Golden Globes, Grammys, etc., and some have last-ed two hours or more. The Emmies, promises executive producer Greg Garrison, will be wrapped up in an hour and a half.

"I think we can do it," said the producer. "I don't think you should bore your audience by taking two hours or 2½ to give out every award in the book. We can give out all the key awards in 90 minutes. But I mean only the key awards."

"I think people are more interested in the best specials and best supporting actors than they are in the videotape editors and best special news broadcasts."

"After all, we're in the entertainment business. And if television can't give its own awards in an entertaining manner, then there's something wrong."

The television academy has recruited two powerhouse emcees—Frank Sinatra, who will handle the Hollywood end of the program, and Dick Van Dyke, in charge in New York. Most of the other big names Garrison sought will be on hand.

"There have been a few sore losers who refused because they weren't nominated," said the producer. "But the big ones will be there. Dean (Martin) said he couldn't very well not appear since the show involves his best friend (Sinatra) and his producer (Garrison)."

"Bob Hope will be in New York doing a 'Fight for Sight' benefit at Philharmonic Hall, but he said he would steal 15 minutes to rush down to the Americana Hotel and appear. The fact that we have his own director, Jack Shea, directing graduate of Hope High School and is now employed at Cox Brothers' Foundry and Machine Co.

The couple will be married June 22 at 7 p.m. in the Southside Missionary Baptist Church with Bro. Gay Polk performing the ceremony. No cards will be sent. All friends and relatives are invited.

Tall Women May Be in Tall Trouble

By KAY BARTLETT

Associated Press Writer MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — If Miss Alaska's theory that "short men don't like big broads" is true, almost half of the Miss USA contestants are in tall trouble.

This year's crop is truly a bumper crop, with 18 of 51 stretching to 5-foot-8 or above. But most of the leggy lovelies say they would still like to grow another inch or two.

Miss Florida, a six-footer who says she still might be growing is the tallest, followed closely by 5-foot-11½ Miss Nebraska, who says that's tall enough and vows she will never get measured again.

"If I get any taller, I don't want to know about it," said Linda Drescher of Omaha. "The boys might say they like the tall girls, but they sure don't show it. All the tall boys date the short girls."

Sharon Long of Anchorage, a hazel-eyed brunette who is 5-foot-10, says she wouldn't mind another inch or two, but admits her height presents a problem or two with the men.

"If they're short, they don't like to be dwarfed," said the 19-year-old student who hunts grizzly, caribou and moose in her spare time.

Miss Washington, one of the winners in Wednesday night's swimsuit competition, says she never has any problem with short men trying to date her.

"I scare them," said 5-foot-9 Dorothy "Didi" Anstett of Kirkland.

"But on second thought," she added, "this is a pretty good height. The boys still feel secure."

the show didn't hurt us any.

"I got a letter from Bing Crosby in Mexico saying he would love to be on the show, but this was the only time this year he would be able to get in some fishing down there. I was prouder of his refusal than I was of some of those who accepted."

Garrison said there will be some brief entertainment and perhaps a few clips of the top shows. But otherwise he'll keep the awards coming.

One category that causes Garrison concern is the outstanding musical or variety series. Competing with the Bell Telephone Hour, Carol Burnett show, Laugh-in and the Smothers Brothers hour is the Dean Martin show, produced by Greg Garrison.

"I've always been a loser," he admitted. This year I'd like to win."

Health Board Approves Firing

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Health has unanimously approved the dismissal of Dr. W. Paul Reagan, director of the Division of Communicable Disease Control.

The board, in a closed session Thursday, also commended the state health officer, Dr. J. T. Herron, for his conduct in the dismissal. No reason was given for Reagan's dismissal.

Television and Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer NEW YORK (AP) — There are a number of good, serviceable series titles in television which are carefully designed to cover a wide range of material and subjects—"American Profile," "Omibus," "White Paper," "Houseparty."

Perhaps the best umbrella title of all is appended to ABC's long-playing skein of actuality shows "The Saga of Western Man."

As it has worked out over the past few seasons, this title is a catch-all for just about any subject that piques the interest of its executive producer, John Secondari, a quadruple-threat operator who has turned out a best-selling novel, done service as a news man, writes and narrates his own shows.

In the past three seasons, Secondari's attention has rested on such diverse subjects as Leonardo da Vinci's contributions to civilization, Columbus' journeys to the New World, a play-by-play reconstruction of Custer's last stand and the slow crumbling of Venice into the waters from which it arose.

Now, in a real change of pace, "Saga" will come up with a documentary about contemporary missionaries in India and the islands of Micronesia in the Pacific.

To make "in the Name of God," the missionary special scheduled for Monday night, director John Hughes and a photography team headed by one of the best men in the business, William Hartigan, spent months in out-of-the-way tropical islands and poverty-stricken corners of India shooting thousands of feet showing modern missionaries at work.

Hughes, who started out with some preconceived notions on the subject, was surprised at what he found.

"The last thing in the world they seem to want to do these days is convert people," Hughes reported. "Mostly modern missionaries are interested in helping the natives. They are concerned with constructing houses and roads—and digging wells, educating the children and improving health and diets."

In the course of two months in and around the Caroline Islands, Hughes saw more examples of missionaries helping people than converting them to Christianity. His one regret about the resulting program is that time does not permit showing film of teams of young natives of Ponape, a remote island, playing baseball with the enthusiasm of American boys.

Petroleum Shipment Petroleum accounts for more waterborne freight at U.S. ports than any other commodity, with oil shipments making up 37 per cent of all commerce moved by water.

HELEN HELP US!

YOUTH ASKED FOR IT!

This column is for young people, their problems and pleasures, their troubles and fun. As with the rest of Helen Help Us!, it welcomes laughs but won't dodge a serious question with a brush off.

Send your teenage questions to YOUTH ASKED FOR IT, care of Helen Help Us! this newspaper.

THE KOOKS GET ALL THE LINES

Dear Helen: This is so typical of our times, I had to pass it on.

The other night I heard a television reporter interviewing a recently escaped war prisoner. There had been much publicity about the prisoner's escape from North Vietnam, and the interviewer asked about public reaction. The man said less than one percent of the many letters written to him were derogatory, most were terrific votes of confidence—for himself and our country.

Now wouldn't you think, with such a small negative reaction, the reporter would leave it lay and concentrate on the good side of people? But no! His next question was, "Tell us about the crank letters."

The escapee gave him a long, quizzical look, and said quietly "I'd rather not." Then, though he wasn't asked, he described a few of the fine things people had done for him.

I'm not blaming the reporter. He's no different from any of us—he was trying for a shocker that would hook his audience. But isn't it sad that we're more interested in the one percent of kooks than in the 99 percent who aren't?—LISTENER

Dear Listener: Certainly is! And that's why the small minority of kooks, sadists, wild teens, etc. looks so frighteningly large to us. We're very big for "shockers," and reporters feed us what we crave. Then, against our better judgment, we start generalizing about our "decadent society," and moaning about a lost, lost world. . . . Sad. —H.

Dear Helen: My husband and I have been arguing about this question. As a matter of fact, we have all the neighbors discussing it too.

Here goes: My husband has a brother who is married. His wife is my husband's sister-in-law. Wouldn't she also be MY sister-in-law?

My husband says, "No." He insists she should be called my brother-in-law's wife, or my husband's sister-in-law.

If it were so, my aunt's husband wouldn't be my uncle. Would he be my uncle-in-law? And how about cousins?

Dear Puz: Your husband may be technically correct, but relatives who rest on technicalities don't have close relationships. For my money, the wife of your husband's brother is YOUR sister-in-law too; your aunt's husband is your uncle—and while your second cousin may possibly be a "cousin once-removed," don't worry about it. He doesn't. —H.

Dear Helen: I would like to answer those letters that shoppers are always writing about nasty sales people. We are not nasty when we first go to work.

The customer makes us so. People let their kids run wild in the store, and if we tell them to cool it, we are blamed. In a supermarket, mothers hand their children bananas, penny candy, peanuts off the stalls, to keep them pacified, and never once think to pay for them. They allow them to swing drippy ice cream bars or messy chocolate candy near other customers or in the drygoods section.

Women are always asking stupid questions, then getting mad because we can't answer them. If we knew everything, would we be working as sales girls? They or the kids will break something, then swear it was already broken. You'd be surprised how many of them actually shoplift then, when caught, say, "I forgot, and dropped this in my bag by mistake."

They ask for something, and when we say we don't carry it, even tell them where they can find it elsewhere, they imply we are lying and are just too lazy to get it for them.

And our day isn't complete if at least a few ladies don't yell, "Hey, girly." It isn't easy, being a sweet, kind and gentle—SALES GIRL.

PROVINCETOWN, Mass. (AP) — Author Norman Mailer, 45, was fined $25 Thursday for speeding in nearby Wellfleet on Cape Cod April 27. Mailer, who has a home here, pleaded innocent in district court. Police said they wanted to release the writer after giving him a warning, but he insisted on a citation.

Stricken Student to Graduate

UPLAND, Ind. (AP) — Jerry Truex has never stepped inside a Taylor University classroom and his only campus visit was to watch a football game. But he will graduate magna cum laude Sunday with a bachelor's degree in business administration.

Stricken with spinal and bulbar polio at 7, the 22-year-old son of a Veterans Administration hospital employee will make his second campus visit to sit with other graduating seniors in Maytag Gymnasium at the 122-year-old college of 1,281 students.

Jere earned a 3.85 grade point average out of a possible 4.0 during four years.

"He wants to be self supporting and be able to contribute something to the community," said his mother, Mrs. Charles Truex.

"He has known all along he would have to have more education than the average," she said. "We just never wanted him to be a care case. He gets bored if he's not busy."

Jere is almost totally paralyzed, but can move his head to speak into a two-way telephone linking him with his classroom and move the fingers of his right hand just enough to turn pages of books propped in front of him. A portable respirator enables him to escape his iron lung during the daytime.

Professors and classmates sometimes conducted classes in the Truex farm house just outside Upland.

Homer by Howard Is Difference

By HAL BOCK
Associated Press Sports Writer

Frank Howard felt like he was in a dentist's chair and Ralph Houk would've sworn he was in an electric one.

Howard, Washington's mammoth slugger, drilled his 13th and 14th home runs of the season—tying an American League record with seven circuits in his last four games—and drove in all of Washington's runs as the Senators clipped Cleveland 4-1 Thursday night.

Manager Houk, meanwhile, shuddered through a nightmare game in Boston where his normally run-starved New York Yankees scored 10 times only to have the Red Sox rally for six runs in the eighth inning and an 11-10 victory.

In the only other American League game played, Minnesota edged Oakland 4-3.

In the National League, the New York Mets nipped Cincinnati 2-1, San Francisco dropped Houston 3-1, Pittsburgh shut out St. Louis 3-0 and the Chicago Cubs nipped Los Angeles 1-0.

"Hitting against the Indians' pitching staff," said Howard before Thursday night's game, "is like going to the dentist. You have to keep the appointment but you don't like it much."

The Gentle Giant bore up pretty well against Sam McDowell, connecting after Sam Bowers singled in the third and again after Bowers had walked in the fifth.

The two shots boosted Howard's batting average to .339—tops in the American League. His 14 homers and 28 runs batted in lead both leagues.

Howard stands 6 feet 7 and weighs 260 pounds.

The seven homers in four games tied the record set by Tony Lazzeri of the New York Yankees in 1936 and tied by Gus Zernial of Philadelphia in 1951. It had been 10 games since New York had managed more than two runs in a game. But the Yankees erupted for six runs in the third inning—four of them on rookie catcher Frank Fernandez' grand slam homer—and were leading the Red Sox 9-3 after four.

The primary concern was the weather. A steady downpour threatened to wash the game out before it was official. But Houk got lucky, or so he thought, and the game continued despite the rain.

It was 10-5 Yankees in the eighth when Bobby Cox, troubled by the wet ball, threw away Jose Tartabull's leadoff grounder. A single by Gene Oliver and a walk to Mike Andrews loaded the bases and finished Yankee starter Mel Stottlemyre.

Joe Foy greeted reliever Joe Verbanic with a two-run double and Dalton Jones' infield hit made it 10-8. Reggie Smith doubled for another run and by this time Houk was really feeling the heat.

Dooley Womack relieved and walked Ken Harrelson, who had socked a three-run homer earlier. George Scott's sacrifice fly tied the game as Smith moved to third. Then Jerry Adair dumped a perfect suicide squeeze bunt, scoring Smith with the winner.

Minnesota rallied for two runs in the eighth inning to beat Oakland.

Quarry Wins a Split Decision

Pirates in Victory Over Cards

By MIKE RECHT
Associated Press Sports Writer

Roberto Clemente missed the recent bat burning held by his Pittsburgh Pirates teammates, and now the St. Louis Cardinals would like to hold a special one for him.

The idea must have occurred to the Cardinals after Clemente and his unburned bat cooled off St. Louis pitching Thursday night with a two-run triple that sparked the Pirates to a 3-0 victory.

"I got someone to save them (his bats) for me," Clemente said after the Pirates disgustedly burned about eight of their bats in Forbes Field following the second straight 1-0 loss to St. Louis Wednesday night.

"I don't believe in that."

None of the other Pirates seem to have gotten hot over the affair, and the rest of the league also did little with their regular bats Thursday.

Rich Nye hurled a six-hitter and the Chicago Cubs edged the Los Angeles Dodgers 1-0, Tom Seaver's six-hitter helped the New York Mets past Cincinnati 2-1 and Juan Marichal twirled a five-hitter in San Francisco's 3-1 triumph over Houston. Atlanta was rained out at Philadelphia in the other scheduled game.

In the American League, Boston outslugged the New York Yankees 11-10, Washington topped Cleveland 4-1 and Minnesota tripped Oakland 4-3 in the only games scheduled.

Clemente, who singled in the first inning, ended Pittsburgh's streak of 27 scoreless innings in the third inning after Matty Alou blooped a two-out single and Maury Wills got an infield hit off loser Ray Washburn's leg.

Willie Stargell then drove in Clemente with a hit as the Pirates had, for them, a robust attack of eight hits.

Bob Veale, usually on the mound when Pittsburgh bats are at their weakest, stopped the Cardinals on eight hits and struck out 13 for his second straight victory after three opening defeats. Veale, who saved his bats, also got a single.

Nye's shutout of the Dodgers was the sixth time they have been blanked this season. Ron Santo's run-scoring single in the first inning settled the duel between Nye, 2-4, and Don Sutton, 2-3, who left for a pinch hitter in the seventh after yielding seven hits.

Nye struck out seven and kept the Dodgers from getting beyond second base as he dropped Sutton's career record against the Cubs to 0-9.

Tommy Agee, no powerhouse with his .121 average, drove in his third run of the season with a two-out single in the ninth inning for the Mets' victory. Seaver, 2-3 with a 1.72 earned run average, won his duel against Jerry Rizzo, 3-2, who allowed eight hits.

Marichal became the first six-game winner in the majors — he has lost twice — and only a two-out double by Rusty Staub in the ninth ruined his shutout. The big hit for the Giants was Hal Lanier's two-run double in the seventh inning as San Francisco beat the Astros for the 32nd time in their last 35 meetings at Candlestick Park.

Frazier Is Favored Over Mexican

By MURRAY ROSE
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Manuel Ramos has displayed looks, polish and charm. Now if the tall, dark and handsome Mexican heavyweight can fight he can make a fortune.

There appears to be some doubt about his ability, even in a mediocre field of heavyweights. He was made a 3-1 underdog here today after it was officially confirmed he will meet unbeaten Joe Frazier for a piece of the world championship at Madison Square Garden June 24.

Frazier is the known quantity. The 24-year-old, 5-foot-11, 205-pound Philadelphia has a 20-0 record, including 18 knockouts. He is strong, durable and can hit pretty good with either hand.

Stocky Joe stopped previously unbeaten Buster Mathis last March 4 and was recognized as heavyweight king in New York, Illinois, Massachusetts, Maine and Pennsylvania.

Ramos, 25, 6-3 and 210, is the Mexican champion. He has a 21-6-2 record, including 17 knockouts. He has won 15 straight, including 12 by knockouts, since March 13, 1966.

He is ranked fourth by Ring

Dancer's Trainer to Just Watch

By ED SCHUYLER JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

BALTIMORE (AP) — Trainer Lou Cavalariis was thrilled when he went to the Kentucky Derby winner's circle with Dancer's Image. Now, because of that race, he will be just a television spectator when the colt runs in the Preakness.

"I will watch the Preakness on television, but I don't know where yet," Cavalariis said Thursday. "I have confidence he will run a good race."

He and his assistant, Robert Barnard, are under suspension by the Churchill Downs stewards as a result of Dancer's Image's disqualification as Derby winner because of an illegal medication found in the colt's system by a post-race test.

Cavalariis, barred from any race track while under suspension through June 13, was at a motel near Pimlico when owner Peter Fuller entered Dancer's Image in Saturday's 93rd running of the Preakness.

Dancer's Image will do battle once again with Calumet Farm's Forward Pass, moved up to first in the Derby and given a shot at becoming the first Triple Crown winner since Citation won the Derby, Preakness and Belmont in 1948.

Seven other colts and a gelding also were entered, and if all 10 start it will become the richest Triple Crown race, with a gross purse of $195,200 and a winner's share of $142,700. The $194,000 Preakness in 1967 is the current gross purse record holder.

Post time is 5:30 p.m., EDT. National television coverage is from 5-5:45 p.m. and radio from 5:20-5:40 p.m., both CBS.

The gelding in the field is Mrs. Mildred Beall's Martins Jig. The other colts are Charles Engelhard's Jig Time, Gene Goff's Nodouble, Robert J. Kieberg's Out Of The Way, Hubert Phipps' Ringmaster, and Richard Dufour's and Joseph Richards' Sir Beau, John ero's Wood-Pro and James L. Skinner's Yankee Lad.

In Cavalariis' absence, Dancer's Image will be saddled by Bob Casey, who manages Fuller's Runnymede Farm in New Hampshire and is licensed to train in New England, New York and Maryland. Bobby Usery again will be the jockey.

Ismael Valenzuela will ride Forward Pass in an effort to gain another notch on the Triple Crown.

The $100,000-added California over 1-16 miles at Hollywood Park tops the rest of the national card.

Lonborg Will Be Out a Little Longer

BOSTON (AP) — The spot is open on the Boston Red Sox' roster for the return of Jim Lonborg, but spring training muscle twinges are going to keep the right-handed ace sidelined a little longer.

The Red Sox made room for Lonborg by placing southpaw Carry Roggenburg on the 60-day emergency disabled list Thursday. Then they learned that Lonnie isn't ready yet.

Lonborg, the 1967 Cy Young Award winner who posted 22 victories in helping the Red Sox to the American League pennant, hurled batting practice for eight minutes, throwing about 50 pitches.

He didn't exactly flunk the test—but he didn't pass it, either. He appeared to throw at only three-quarter speed and broke off only three or four curves.

"I guess I'm on schedule in my training program," the 25-year-old veteran said after ice pack treatment in the closed training room. "I feel pretty good, but I can't say how hard I'm throwing. I haven't set any target date for my return, so we'll have to wait and see."

Lonborg agreed with most other knowledgeable members of the Red Sox that his left knee again is sound. He underwent surgery to repair cartilage damage suffered in a skiing accident last December.

Two Records Set in Meet of Champs

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Despite a heavy rain, Little Rock Central's Phillip Herndon sprinted to victory in two hurdles events in the Meet of Champions Thursday night.

Herndon, who posted a comeback triumph in the 180-yard low hurdles, also ran legs on three winning relay teams, one a record-setting 41.9 in the 440 relay.

Herndon was clocked in 14 flat in the 120-yard high hurdles and had a 19.1 in the lows, rallying in the final 20 yards to beat Joe Trotter of Pine Bluff Southeast.

Two records fell in the meet — both before the heavy rain hit. Central's time in the 440-yard relay eclipsed by one-tenth second the record set by the Tigers in the Class AAA State meet two weeks ago.

Henry Basey of Little Rock Horace Mann shaved one-tenth second of the 100-yard dash mark with a 9.6 clocking. The 9.7 mark was equaled by Basey in the Class AAA meet. It was set in 1963 by Mike Hoffman of Central.

Central captured the mile relay with a 3:22.5 and the 880 relay in 1:27.3.

Sophomore John Felner of Russellville captured the 880 run in 1:57.4 and Carl Lowe of North Little Rock covered the 220 in 21.6, just two-tenths second off the state record.

Only one record fell in the junior high division, that a 51.1 sprint in the 440 dash by Luther Gunn of Arkadelphia. It better the record of 51.4 held jointly by Gunn and Clarence Gregory of Hot Springs Southwest.

Harding Is Winner of Tennis Meet

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Harding College won the Arkansas Intercollegiate Conference tennis championship here Thursday by sweeping the singles and doubles.

Dean Bawcom, who upset the top-seeded player Wednesday, upended his doubles teammate, David Elliott, 7-5, 6-1 for the singles crown after Bawcom and Elliott had defeated Southern State's Willie Stroope and Randy Fuqua 6-3, 7-5 for the doubles title.

Harding scored 18 team points, followed by Arkansas Tech with 10, Hendrix 8, State College 7, Southern State 6, Ouachita Baptist 6, Henderson 4, Arkansas College 3 and Arkansas A&M and College of the Ozarks 1 each.

Southern State is heavily favored to win the AIC track meet which was scheduled for this afternoon.

Barber and Sikes Are in Running

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — R. H. Sikes of Springdale and Miller Barber of Texarkana each shot 72s Thursday in the first round of the $125,000 Colonial National Invitation Golf Tournament.

Billy Casper and Marty Fleckman tied for the lead with 69. Dick Crawford of Bella Vista carded a 74.

Radatz Looks More Like a Friendly Giant

By BILL HALLS
Associated Press Sports Writer

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Dick Radatz, known as "The Monster" when he was the relief ace of the Boston Red Sox three years ago, now is more like a friendly giant looking to regain his lost magic.

The road leads from Detroit to Toledo and the 6-foot-7, 260-pound Radatz makes the round trip daily from his Farmington, Mich., home outside Detroit to pitch for the Toledo Mud Hens.

"It's been hard on my wife and the kids," admits the former Michigan State pitcher ace. "I've been with six teams in the last six months."

"I don't need baseball. I made lots of money at Boston and I didn't blow it. But I love the game. The thing that keeps me going is that my arm is still strong. I'm 31 and I think I still can pitch."

Radatz has posted a 1-1 mark at Toledo with a 1.50 earned run average. He beat Richmond in an International League game last Sunday, striking out 12 and walking two.

Radatz' slump began with the Red Sox in 1965. He began experimenting with a sinker pitch and inadvertently changed his pitching motion, losing his pinpoint control.

Boston traded Radatz to Cleveland and the Indians sent him to the Chicago Cubs. He posted a 1-0 record in 23 innings with the Cubs early last season, but walked 24 men in 23 innings and Manager Leo Durocher sent him to Tacoma in the Pacific Coast League.

Radatz' control grew worse at Tacoma where he was 0-2 in 22 innings, walking 33 and posting a 9.00 ERA.

Jim Campbell, the Tigers' general manager, was looking for a relief specialist. He called Radatz and asked him to come to Detroit after he had been cut from a minor league team out West. Radatz worked at Detroit for a week and went to Toledo.

Instant Insurance

Step Number One, after you buy a car, is to buy insurance. But it might take the insurance company several days—or even several weeks—to consider your application. In the meantime, the company may give you a "binder" for temporary protection.

How good is a binder? Does it really protect you in case of an accident?

Generally speaking, a court will indeed enforce a binder—even an oral one (although that kind is harder for you to prove). While a binder lacks most of the details to be found in a formal insurance policy, the courts are willing to read in what is missing—provided that can be done with reasonable accuracy.

Consider this case:

A motorist was involved in an accident shortly after taking out a binder for "10-10" liability coverage. In a court test, this was held to mean that the man had coverage of $10,000 for each accident and $10,000 for each injury—because that is how such a phrase would ordinarily be understood in the insurance business.

On the other hand, your binder probably will not stand up in court if it leaves some essential fact in real doubt. Omitting the amount of coverage, or the type, or the term, could mean that a court would have to use guesswork to figure out what the parties had in mind. Then, the binder would lack that "meeting of the minds" necessary to constitute a legal contract.

Furthermore, a binder, just like a formal insurance policy, may be cancelled in most states if it was obtained by false representations.

In one case a motorist, applying for a binder, was asked if he had had any traffic violations in the preceding three years. His answer was "No."

But after he had a collision, the insurance company found out that his answer should have been "Yes." In fact, his record showed no less than five moving violations in the three-year period.

As the judge put it, his deception was "material to the risk"—that is, important enough for the insurance company to have turned down his application if it had known the truth.

Long and Dry Spring for Mets' Agee

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK (AP) — This has been a long, dry spring for 10-mile Agee, who was to make New York Met fans forget Tommy Davis.

After sweating out an 0 for 34 hitless streak, they gave him an ovation at Shea Stadium when he finally got a base hit two weeks ago.

But the slump continued and he was down to .116 before Thursday's game with Cincinnati.

"I think about it all the time," he said. "Maybe I think too much. Sometimes I wake up in the middle of the night and think of it. I'm sorry I woke up. It's the first thing that comes to my mind."

Agee should have slept well Thursday night for he finally broke out of it with a game-winning single in the last of the ninth for a 2-1 victory over Cincinnati.

The blow was a life saver for another fellow sufferer on the Mets, Tom Seaver. The Rookie of the Year in 1967 has had nothing but bad luck this season and the Mets had scored a total of only 12 runs for him in seven previous starts.

There were two on and two out in the ninth when Agee bounced the ball in the hole between first and second for the winner.

Seaver jumped on Agee's back. The entire Met bench came out to greet the man whose hit still left him with a .121 average.

Agee's mail has been heavy with secret cures, prayers, charms, good luck coins. He got one the other day with a four leaf clover.

"I keep them all," he said "except those that give me advice about hitting. I don't bother to read them."

Can't Decide on Football or Track

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Earl McCullough, speedster formerly with the Southern California Trojans—national champions of college football—is a young man with a conflict, between football and track.

McCullough wants to make the U.S. Olympic track team as a hurdler. He's co-holder of the world record in the 110-meter highs and two indoor hurdle events.

"I really want that gold medal," McCullough said Thursday. "I only wish the Olympics were in the summer, rather than the fall."

He hopes to play professional football with the National Football League Detroit Lions

Buffalo Is After a Franchise

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — The Erie County Legislature has approved the issuance of $50 million in bonds for the construction of a domed stadium in the Buffalo area in hopes of gaining a National League baseball franchise.

The National League meets Tuesday and Wednesday in St. Louis and is expected to name the two new franchise locations to begin operation in 1969.

Five cities are bidding for the franchises. They are Buffalo, Montreal, Dallas-Fort Worth, Milwaukee and San Diego.

The Jacoby transfer bid is easy to learn. Specifically when your partner opens one no-trump, the two diamond response is a transfer to hearts and the opening bidder rebids two hearts unless he has a maximum no-trump with very good hearts in which case he may rebid three hearts. The two heart response is a spade transfer in the same manner. The responding hand is unlimited in strength. You may transfer with a bad hand and intention of passing at the two level or you may transfer on your way to a slam.

The bidding of today's hand shows a transfer bid slam. South had almost enough to jump to three spades after North's two heart transfer. North in turn might have gone directly to four spades but he saw some slam possibilities so he forced with three clubs. South's three diamond bid said, "Partner, if you are interested in a slam I have the ace of diamonds." North's jump to four spades said, "I have slight slam interest with very good spades." South's four no-trump call was Blackwood. He might have gone directly to the slam but there was some slight chance that North would only hold one ace.

Played by South there was no defense against the spade slam. South drew trumps and led a heart from dummy. If East ducked, South would have to lose a diamond eventually but wouldn't lose a heart. Actually East went up with the heart ace. This allowed South to discard two of dummy's diamonds on the king and queen of hearts.

If North played the spade slam and East happened to lead a diamond, North would have to take the finesse and lose his contract.

If South played at six no-trump, correct defense would leave him no play to make it.

THE PRODIGAL

QUICK QUIZ

Q—For what was a patent granted to Abraham Lincoln?
A—The Patent Office awarded him a patent for "buoying vessels over shoals." This was the first and only patent obtained by a U.S. president. It was never put into practical use.

Q—What was the Star of Bethlehem?
A—Science does not know the answer to this question. The star is mentioned in one passage in the Bible (Matthew 2:1-12) and nowhere else.

TIME IS RUNNING OUT!

It's later than you think! If this should be your last day here . . . then what? Do you have a clear view of destiny? Do you know the meaning and purpose of life? Have you had time for God? If not it will be a terrible day when God has no time for you. There is a church on the corner whose pulpit holds an old guide book. Its commands come with the authority of Heaven to earth, of God to man, of eternity to time — it warns us to make ready. Time is running out!

Do unto others as you would have others do unto you.
—THE GOLDEN RULE

If you have faith
like a mustard seed...
nothing will be impossible to you.

LEGAL NOTICE

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NO. 53
(Legislative)
FOR A PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO ELIMINATE AGE RESTRICTIONS ON PUBLIC EDUCATION.
BE IT RESOLVED by the Senate of the State of Arkansas, and by the House of Representatives, a majority of all the members elected to each House agreeing thereon:
That the following is hereby proposed as an amendment to the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, and upon being submitted to the electors of the State for approval or rejection at the next general election for Representatives and Senators, if a majority of the electors voting thereon, at such an election, adopt such amendment, the same shall become a part of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas, to wit:
SECTION 1. That Section 28 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby amended to read as follows:
(a) The county judge shall be the administrative officer of the county, and in his capacity as county administrator the county judge shall, in the manner provided by law, approve the disbursement of money for county purposes; supervise the construction, maintenance and improvement of county roads and bridges, county buildings, other county improvements; make contracts, purchases and sales in behalf of the county; and perform such additional duties as administrative officer of the county as may be prescribed by law. The General Assembly shall enact laws requiring each county judge to furnish a surety bond of a corporate surety company authorized to do business in this State, in such amount as the law may determine by law, for the faithful performance and accounting of all duties imposed upon the county judge as county administrator. Any person aggrieved by any act or omission of the county judge, acting in his capacity as county administrator, may appeal to the circuit court of the county, and from the action of the circuit court may appeal to the Supreme Court.
(b) In addition to his duties as administrative officer of the county, the county judge shall be the judge of the county court. The county court shall have jurisdiction with respect to the internal improvement and local concerns of the respective counties, except with respect to those duties of the county judge as the administrative officer of the county as provided in sub-section (a) of this section, as may be provided by law.
(c) Until otherwise provided by law, jurisdiction and duties of the county court, existing at the time of the adoption of this amendment, with respect to bastardy, vagrancy, the apprenticeship of minors and the juvenile court shall be vested in and performed by the chancery court of the county, provided that the General Assembly may vest such duties or jurisdiction in such other courts or departments as may be provided by law.
SECTION 2. That Section 39 of Article VII of the Constitution of the State of Arkansas is hereby amended to read as follows:
(a) The number of township shall elect at least two justices of the peace and such additional number, based on the number of electors in the township as may be provided by law. In determining the number of additional justices of the peace to be elected from each township, the General Assembly may classify the counties of the State into general population groups, with the number to be elected in each township to be based on the classification of the county."

School Ends Early at Jonesboro

JONESBORO, Ark. (AP) — The school year ended two weeks early for some 1,200 pupils in Jonesboro but most of them will spend the time helping their families push away the debris from a killer tornado that left 34 dead and about 350 injured Wednesday night.

Supt. Gerald Watkins of the Nettleton School surveyed the destruction at the one block complex Thursday and found only two buildings standing, both heavily damaged.

"School is out for this year," Watkins told Sen. J. William Fulbright, D-Ark., who canceled a speech to tour the stricken areas.

Meanwhile, rescue workers took advantage of a clear, hot day to sift through the wreckage. The tornadoes also struck Oil Trough, Tuckerman and Mountain Home, with the state toll reaching 43 deaths and 470 injured.

Fulbright said the response of the Jonesboro citizens "to this great tragedy is impressive. There was no instance of looting or disorder and with everyone working together, I'm sure that we can restore the damage."

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller, who toured the sites of destruction in his private airplane, asked President Johnson to declare it as a federal disaster area.

"I was impressed with the morale of the people in Jonesboro," Rockefeller said. "They are still stunned, as I would be, but everybody is out working trying to clean up the mess and salvage what they can."

The 350 injured at Jonesboro was only an estimate and a spokesman at St. Bernard's Hospital said it would be several days before it was known how many persons were admitted and that "we'll never know" how many were treated and released.

"We were just too busy to keep records," the spokesman said.

One elderly man, poling through the ruins of what had been his house, salvaged a lighter, three left shoes, a soldering iron and a six pack of beer, but then suddenly said, "To hell with it," and threw away everything but the beer.

The residents of the fringes of the storm, who mostly appeared to be young families, joked grimly with their neighbors about who had the most water in their yard and whose car landed in whose garage.

But, several blocks away, where only bare concrete slabs identified the spots that used to be houses, the atmosphere was more somber.

At Mountain Home, where Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Anderson of Hugoton, Kan., were killed, seven persons were standing on a boat dock when the storm struck.

"It was real quiet... then wham," said W. E. Weatherhold of Decatur, Ill. "My wife and sister disappeared. We had to dig them out from under the dock."

Weatherhold said his sister lost her purse containing more than $2,000.

Representatives of insurance companies moved into the four damaged cities late Thursday but said they could not give any estimates of damage yet.

Purcell Says WR Created Commission

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Atty. Gen. Joe Purcell said Thursday that Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller had re-created the governor's Commission on Crime and Law Enforcement as part of the state Planning Commission.

The governor had previously created the department under an executive proclamation, an action that Purcell was researching on a request from Sen. Virgil Fletcher of Benton who questioned the legality of the commission.

Purcell advised Fletcher that Rockefeller had signed a proclamation April 16 appropriating $10,561 in state money to plan, co-ordinate, assess and otherwise deal with the problems of law enforcement, criminal justice, crime prevention and control.

The second proclamation made no direct mention of a crime commission but it did contain a sentence saying it replaced the proclamation issued by the governor March 18.

Purcell asked the governor's office April 8 and again April 23 to have one of his attorneys work with the attorney general's office in researching the law.

Turmoil Hits Colleges Over Nation

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Delaware State College was closed today and Marquette University faced the possible loss of some faculty members as the fever of student ferment continued to grip campuses around the nation.

Trustees at the predominantly Negro state college in Dover, Del., ordered the school closed after about 200 students seized control of the administration building Thursday for several hours.

A new committee of trustees, faculty and students was formed to hear undergraduate grievances including a demand for the resignation of college President Dr. Luna I. Mishoe.

National Guardsmen ordered in by Gov. Charles L. Terry Jr. remained on the 900-student campus overnight following the latest and most serious in a series of demonstrations.

In Newark, Del., about 100 students at the University of Delaware took over the student center today to demonstrate sympathy for the Delaware state students. Later they submitted demands of their own to university officials.

Marquette University in Milwaukee was involved in a continuing dispute over demands to hire a Negro administrator. Negro basketball players threatened briefly to withdraw from school.

The Rev. Bernard Cooke, a theologian, promised student protesters he and two other priests would quit if the 13,000-student Roman Catholic university did not meet their demands within 48 hours.

Police arrested seven students who had been sitting in at the student union. About 100 others gave up the sit-in just before the police arrived.

The university made no comment on either the withdrawal threat of the athletes or the threatened faculty resignations but the Rev. John P. Raynor, university president, said earlier Marquette will "not be governed by coercion."

Dr. Henry King Stanford, president of the University of Miami, promised scholarships for Negroes and new courses on the history of black people in an effort to cool disturbances there.

An activist group at the 16,159-student university had staged a sit-in in Stanford's office Tuesday to demand 27 ethnic history-culture course and 200 scholarships.

Three schools in Brooklyn's experimental Ocean Hill-Brownsville district were officially closed again today to allow tensions in the community to subside.

Tornado Toll in Nine States Is 71

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
People treated their injured, arranged to bury their dead and made plans to clear wreckage and rebuild after the tornadoes that hit in five states Wednesday.

The twisters left 71 killed, more than 1,000 injured and millions of dollars in property damage in Arkansas, Iowa, Illinois, Indiana and Missouri.

The death toll: 43 in Arkansas, 15 in Iowa, 10 in Illinois, 2 in Indiana and 1 in Missouri.

Arkansas, hardest hit had 470 injured and some remained in critical condition. Insurance investigators were in the stricken areas. There was no immediate dollar estimate in damages.

Gov. Winthrop Rockefeller asked President Johnson to declare it a federal disaster area.

School for some ended two weeks early in Jonesboro, allowing 1,200 pupils more time to spend helping their families clear away the debris. Rescue workers took advantage of a clear, hot day Thursday to begin that task in Jonesboro, and in Oil Trough, Tuckerman and Mountain Home, communities which suffered most in the storms.

Thirty-four persons were killed and 350 injured when a tornado smashed the southeast side of Jonesboro.

Gov. Harold Hughes estimated total damage in the northeastern Iowa storms at $38 million and declared the section a disaster area. The Red Cross listed 12 dead at Charles City, one at Oelwein and two at Maynard, north of Oelwein—and three missing. The number injured was placed at 693.

Hughes expressed faith that Charles City and Oelwein—where the Wednesday evening tornadoes carved paths of desolation through the business districts—would rebuild. But he said he was concerned about the future of Maynard, population 515, with part of its residential area leveled.

"It's difficult for a small town to recover from something like this," he said.

The National Guard sealed off Charles City Thursday night to all but cleanup workers and those bringing equipment into the city of 10,419. The Red Cross estimated 58 businesses and 172 homes are demolished.

At Freeburg, Ill., where four died and scores were injured, Mayor Leo Dickerson asked Gov. Otto Kerner to declare the southern Illinois city a disaster area to qualify it for state aid. The Salvation Army sent out a plea for bedding and cookware to aid the homeless.

Throughout the stricken region, the homeless lived with friends or relatives, in schools and in churches, or in other public buildings, until they can rebuild or move elsewhere.

"All I've got between me and nothing is this," wept Mrs. Dorothy Clark of Oelwein, as she picked over the remains of her shattered house, "... and this is nothing."

"This is all I had," she added, "and I've worked all my life for it."

Some people in tornado-ravaged sections were—like Mrs. Clark—too stunned to think of rebuilding. Some others, like James Clappier of Charles City, Iowa, were thankful just to be alive.

"We can start our lives over as long as the whole family is safe and alive," said Clappier, 26.

And still others, like Mrs. James Forbes, of Freeburg, had to try to pick up the pieces, think of starting all over again and bury their dead.

Mrs. Forbes said, "Ours is the only trailer that still looks like a trailer. But our son had to get killed."

Faubus Will Be Analyst

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Former Gov. Orval Faubus will serve as the political analyst for the Little Rock television station during the primary and general election night reporting this year.

Faubus confirmed the assignment Thursday and B. G. Robertson, manager of KTHV, said he was delighted.

"Because of his political astuteness and his thorough knowledge of the people and the state, we are delighted we could prevail upon Mr. Faubus to be the analyst for the state election returns," Robertson said.

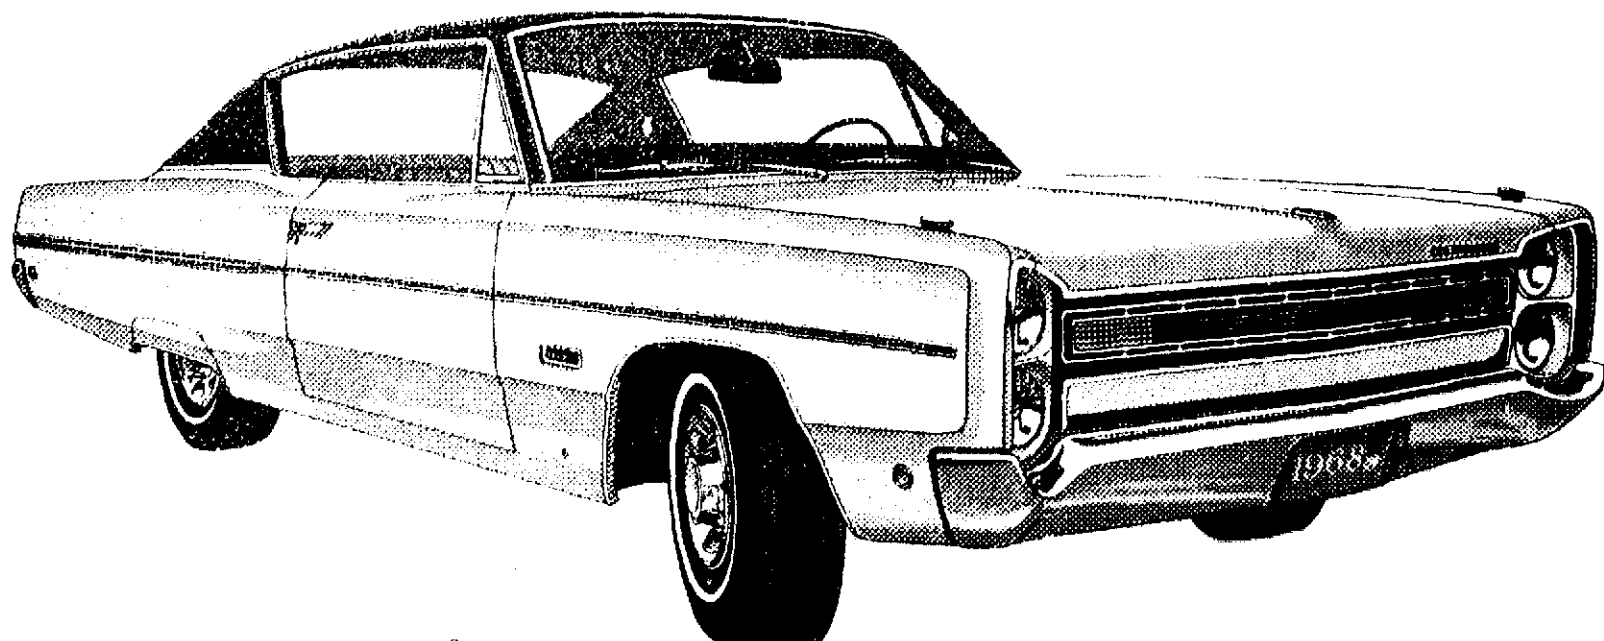

In all, 1,517 people were lost in the Titanic disaster.

Charges LBJ Reacts Too Slowly

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Sen. Robert F. Kennedy accused the Johnson administration today of being slow to react to danger signals in the economy and said some form of income tax increase is needed "to pay for the mistakes of the past."

Campaigning in Portland, Ore., for the Oregon's May 28 presidential primary, the New York Democrat said the need for a tax hike and cuts in non-essential spending was signaled in 1966 but the administration failed to act.

The war "has taken its economic toll" and a moderate increase in corporate and individual income taxes is necessary, Kennedy said in remarks prepared for a Portland City Club luncheon.

But the 10 per cent income tax surcharge advocated by the President, coupled with $6 billion in spending cuts, "would be strong medicine indeed for our economy," he said. "As many as 750,000 people might be thrown out of work, with a 30 per cent rise in unemployment."

One of Kennedy's rivals for the Democratic nomination, Sen. Eugene J. McCarthy of Minnesota, was at the opposite corner of the nation today, trying to win support for a Florida state pledged to support him at the Democratic National Convention.

The state will be up against two others in a Florida primary, also May 28. One is committed, the other pledged to Sen. George Smathers as a favorite son.

McCarthy bore down on the Vietnam issue as he swung through the Sunshine State Thursday, accusing the administration of adopting, then dropping, one explanation after another to justify U.S. participation in the war.

The public was first told it was to be a limited, short-term war, but then it somehow was recast as a conflict in which "the national honor had somehow been pledged," he said.

"How did this happen? When were we consulted?" Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey, the third contender for the nomination, had words of support and approval Thursday for the Poor People's Campaign.

Racing Group States Meet

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dr. Porter Rodgers of Searcy, chairman of the state Racing Commission, said Thursday that the commission will meet at 2 p.m. Saturday at West Memphis.

Scheduled for consideration at the meeting is the Southland Racing Corp. request for a June to October greyhound racing season.

The West Memphis race track has been the center of controversy over stock ownership during the past week with the state Legislative Council ordering an investigation of it after a report that a New York "syndicate" had gained control of it.

Students in France Threat to Radio-TV

By HARVEY HUDSON

PARIS (AP) — Mushrooming unrest among France's students and workers spilled over today into the national radio-television network. Producers and directors of the network struck and radio-television newsmen said they would no longer accept government orders on how the news should be presented.

French students went down on the Paris Bourse. The franc sank to the dollar and gold inched up slightly.

The strike movement rolled ahead with no apparent pattern. The Communist-led General Confederation of Labor called a meeting of its national committee to try to keep control of the movement, and probably push it along.

The long latent unrest spread despite a television appeal by Premier Georges Pompidou for calm. Pompidou asked Frenchmen to "show that you refuse anarchy."

An additional 10,000 police reserves were called up to add to the supplementary force of 60,000 already in Paris. The police were being kept back from the university area and occupied factories, however, to avoid new outbreaks of fighting similar to that in the student quarter last week.

In brief, this was the situation:

Classes were still halted in most French universities. Students held meetings in class-

Some Predict a U.S., N. Vietnam Compromise on Bombing Stalemate

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
AP Special Correspondent
PARIS (AP) — Informed French and American diplomats expect a compromise deal between the United States and North Vietnam to end the bombing of the North in spite of the apparent stalemate in the Paris peace talks.

The North Vietnamese appear at present to be trying to rally world opinion against the United States to pressure it into ending military action against North Vietnam without any compensating cutback by the Communists.

The appeal for support has been sounded this week by ambassador Xuan Thuy in Paris and by Hanoi Radio.

To counter this maneuver U.S. spokesmen cite what they consider the unacceptably high military price the United States would have to pay to end the bombing under present conditions. They are driving for restoration of a buffer zone to cut off Communist troop movements across the North-South border.

Thousands of truck loads of men and supplies per month could pour into South Vietnam without interruption, they say, if attacks were stopped without North Vietnamese de-escalation. Reconnaissance flights over the North would be stopped, cutting

WASHINGTON (AP) — Substantial numbers of federal employees say they'll use off-hours and vacation time to join the Poor People's Campaign—some lining up against programs and policies of their own agencies.

Neither campaign nor federal officials are able to say how many employees are volunteering for the demonstration, but a reporter's check of several agencies shows interest running strong.

This interest is more pronounced among Negro employees but many whites also are planning to help.

Although few yet have taken part in the newly started campaign, large numbers of employees from such agencies as Health, Education and Welfare; the Public Health Service; and the Peace Corps are offering their services.

At HEW's Office for Civil Rights, employee Walter Warfield took three hours of annual leave time to pass out enlistment forms. He got back volunteer slips from about 40 of the 100 employees in the office.

Physicians from the PHS's National Institutes of Health have volunteered in force. Mrs. Mary Holman, administrator with the campaign's medical committee, estimates that 300 doctors have volunteered and that about 200 are from federal posts.

A spokesman for the Public Health Service confirmed that health workers are taking part. He said many are "desk doctors" who have practiced very little medicine and they look upon the campaign as a chance to do something directly for the poor.

At the Peace Corps, Special Services Director Allen Rothberg said a privately organized effort to round up volunteers has enlisted about 300 of the corps' 700-member Washington staff.

The government's policy on participation by employees is the off vital information. Artillery shelling and aerial bombing of the Southern border area of the North would be halted while Communist troops massed there could move South at any time.

Ambassador W. Averell Harriman in an interview Thursday made a tight link between restoring a buffer zone between North and South and ending the rest of the bombing and "all other acts of war" against the North.

Harriman was asked in an ABC television interview whether he was encouraged by North Vietnam's willingness so far to talk here about subjects other than ending the bombing of the North.

He said they had not talked about anything in such a way that "we can get at the subject and agree to it" but had thrown out ideas "in a propaganda way."

"They have criticized our violation of the demilitarized zone," Harriman continued, "when the facts are they are the ones that violated first. It is that sort of thing that they are doing, and they have got to indicate specifically they are ready to re-establish the zone before we can negotiate how to achieve that de-escalation."

Harriman's words indicated that the United States would insist on genuine demilitarization.

Many Seek Poultry Princess Title

Pretty contestants for the Poultry Princess pageant are still registering with the contest chairman, Bob Carver of Nashville.

An estimated 15 to 20 candidates are expected to compete for the four positions as Poultry Princess. The four will compete in the statewide competition.

The Southwest District Pageant will be held in Nashville on Saturday, June 1st.

Mr. Carver said he had already received seven photographs and entry forms from girls, with more arriving.

The candidates already signed up include:

Linda Kaye Wax, a Henderson State co-ed from Gilliam, a 23-year-old brunette;

Donita Austin, Ouachita Baptist student from Mena who is 20 years of age, with brown hair and green eyes;

Patricia Ellen Price of Henderson State, from Arkadelphia, an 18-year-old brunette;

Sharon Kay Porterfield, Southern State College student from Nashville, a 19-year-old brunette;

Linda Swenden of Murfreesboro, 21-year-old brunette who attended Nashville high school;

Dana Charessa Simmons, Arkansas State U., at the Beebe Branch, 19-year-old brunette.

The state winner will serve as the Arkansas Poultry Princess and for a year will work in behalf of the Arkansas Poultry Industry.

Winners at all levels are given awards.

Month-long Allied Drive Has Ended

By JOHN T. WHEELER
Associated Press Writer
PHU BAI, Vietnam (AP) — The allies ended their month-long sweep through the A Shau Valley today and North Vietnamese were believed moving back to the area, their biggest supply and staging base in South Vietnam.

U.S. officers said the drive through the valley had killed 726 enemy troops. Lt. Gen. William L. Rosson, the U.S. commander of the big allied invasion into the enemy stronghold southwest of Hue, said his forces turned up a fourth of the enemy supplies stockpiled inside the 25-mile-long valley.

The cost, according to the U.S. Command, included 139 Americans killed, 662 wounded seriously enough to require hospitalization, 21 helicopters destroyed and 108 damaged.

There was no report from South Vietnamese forces in the operation, named Delaware.

U.S. commanders said the allied force—estimated earlier at more than 15,000 men—closed out the operation in the valley 370 miles northeast of Saigon because the approaching monsoon rains were about to cut off their air support.

Although there was no official word because of security requirements, it was assumed that U.S. ambush patrols and other such units remained in the general area.

Maj. Gen. John J. Tolson, whose 1st Air Cavalry Division on April 19 made the first allied invasion into the valley in two years, said Hanoi should realize American forces can go back into the valley any time.

Another invasion soon appeared unlikely, however. April and May are the only two months of the year when the weather is good enough in the area for the air strikes and supply flights which U.S. forces require in such remote sectors.

The North Vietnamese and the Viet Cong, by contrast, have no air power or air supply facilities in South Vietnam and have never been dependent on them.

U.S. officers had said earlier that the allied force would not try to hold the valley but would make a "reconnaissance in force," meaning they would look around and destroy or remove what they could find.

The U.S. Command said the American troops seized nearly 2,000 enemy rifles, 60 machine guns, more than 250,000 rounds of small arms ammunition, some 4,500 rounds of artillery, rocket, mortar and recoilless rifle ammunition, one tank, 66 trucks, several bulldozers and 71,205 tons of rice.

Rosson said the major portion of the U.S. and South Vietnamese force began withdrawing several days ago, but the schedule for the withdrawal was kept secret for security reasons.

Power Line Proves Fatal

KENNETT, Mo. (AP) — John Francis Maddrie Jr., 37, an enlisted man stationed at Blytheville, Ark., Air Force Base, was killed Thursday when he stepped on a fallen power line, Missouri State Police said.

Officers said Maddrie, of Denver, Colo., was playfully chasing a dog into some brush along a road south of here when he came in contact with a 7,200-volt line that had been knocked down by high winds.

The demonstration, which will be in two parts, will be given under the direction of Don Griscorn, Assistant Director of Safety, Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation.

A 10-minute lecture on traffic safety by Mr. Griscorn will precede the showing of a 20-minute film showing the results of actual accidents by careless people.

The demonstration will be given on the road directly in front of the school. The high point of the demonstration will come when driving tests are made with various students and faculty members in the specially equipped car. An electric detonator which is mounted on the front bumper of the car will fire yellow paint bullets to mark the distance required to stop the car in an emergency. Distance between the spots of paint will then be measured to determine the exact reaction and braking distances.

The demonstration will be limited to 20, 30 and 40 miles-per-hour speeds because of the danger in making emergency stops at higher speeds. Adults will be used as drivers on the high speed tests.

As a part of a program for safety on the highway, the Arkansas Farm Bureau Federation is presenting this driving demonstration before the schools of this state. The public is invited to attend the lecture as well as the demonstration.

Heavy Rain, Hail Lash Hope, Area

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
While Northeast Arkansas was digging out from Wednesday night's devastating tornadoes that left 43 dead, South Arkansas was under going another night of severe thunderstorms, high winds and hail Thursday night.

Twelve counties in the southern portion of the state were placed under a tornado warning during the night as the U.S. Weather Bureau reported funnels at Ashdown, Dyer, about five miles northeast of Camden, about 20 miles southeast of Prescott and 30 miles west of Bearden and about five miles north of Warren.

Meanwhile, heavy rain, high winds and hail pounded Hope, Camden, Prescott, Ashdown, De Queen, Warren, Horatio and Foreman during the night but there were no reports of injuries.

State Police at Hope said wind sucked out a window at the city police headquarters in the city and golf ball size hail fell during the storm.

City police at Ashdown reported that two house trailers were knocked off foundations but no one was injured. Hail ranging from golf ball to baseball size fell on the community, knocking some windows out.

Police said many trees were uprooted along the path of the severe thunderstorm front and electrical power was knocked out in several areas.

State Police said the wind storms hit Horatio and De Queen around 10:30 p.m. Thursday night but because of a power failure, they were not informed of it until after midnight.

The heavy rains came in the wake of seven straight days of showers which sent most rivers and streams in southern Arkansas spilling out of their banks and forcing hundreds of families to leave their homes in low-lying areas.
